Introduction:

I am Sanjay Prakash Agrawal, an entrepreneur hailing from Kashipur, Uttarakhand. With a Bachelor's degree in Arts from Kumaon University and a Diploma in Hotel Management from the Government Institute of Hotel Management, Dehradun, I have spent the last 20 years dedicated to the Khadi movement.

Belonging to a business-oriented family, I was always motivated to become an entrepreneur. My journey began with supplying honey to Khadi India, but I later shifted my focus to manufacturing natural and herbal cosmetic products at Surbhi Gramodyog Vikas Sansthan (SGVS), which is GMP and ISO 9001-2008 certified. My mission is to create quality, chemical-free products like soaps, shampoos, and moisturizers, contributing to employment, women empowerment, and rural development.

Experience

Chief Executive Officer

Surbhi Gramodyog Vikas Sansthan (SGVS)

- Led a GMP & ISO certified unit focused on herbal and natural cosmetic production.
- Promoted initiatives under the KVIC scheme to foster employment and empower women.

Achievements

- 2014: Brand Excellence Award for Best Manufacturer and Supplier of the Year
- 2015: National Business Service Leaders Award for Best Business Service Leader in India
- 2015: Priyadarshini Award for Best Entrepreneur in Village Industry
- 2016: National Award for Best Village Industry Institution in India
- 2016: Case Study Recognition at IVEY, published by The Richard Ivey School of Business, University of London, Ontario, forwarded by IIM.

Regular Packaging of Khadi products, since 2002

Premium Range of Khadi products, developed in 2016

Commitment to Khadi

My 20-year journey in promoting Khadi has earned me a reputation both in India and abroad, with established networks in all major metro cities and international markets. I am honored to be recognized with the Lifetime Achievement Award at the Global UN Economic Growth 2024 Season 4, organized by the LA Global Foundation, celebrating contributions to economic development through Khadi entrepreneurship.

Through SGVS, I aim to continue my commitment to quality, sustainability, and social responsibility, paving the way for future generations in rural entrepreneurship.

Alliance with Khadi

“Khadi is not just a fabric; it's a state of mind.”

As a proud citizen of India, I wholeheartedly embrace and promote Khadi. My journey began as a supplier of honey, working to uplift honey producers in our state and empowering them to thrive.

With a passion for herbal expertise, I transitioned to manufacturing high-quality natural and herbal cosmetic products—soaps, shampoos, moisturizers, and more. The uniqueness of my products lies in their formulation: crafted entirely from natural ingredients, free from harmful chemicals that are often found in mainstream products.

My alliance with Khadi is rooted in the mission to promote “Made in India,” as emphasized by our Hon'ble Prime Minister, Mr. Narendra Modi. Today, I take pride in establishing a reputable name for Khadi, not just within India but also internationally.

On October 2, 2016, Gandhi Jayanti, I became the first entrepreneur in the Khadi sector to launch a premium range of cosmetics, which received widespread acclaim and appreciation.

This partnership with Khadi has been mutually beneficial. While Khadi has provided a robust marketing platform, I have tirelessly worked to advocate for its values both domestically and abroad. I am honored to be recognized as the first Khadi entrepreneur by the Indian Institute of Management (IIM) and to have my work featured as a case study in the prestigious IVEY publication.

My interaction with the Hon'ble Chairman of KVIC, Mr. V.K. Saxena, left a lasting impression. He visited my unit, SGVS, and appreciated my efforts to uplift Khadi, noting my commitment to spreading positivity among my staff and business associates.

Through this journey, I remain dedicated to the principles of Khadi—sustainability, empowerment, and authenticity—and will continue to champion its legacy in every endeavor.

Q. What made you go into social work ?

A. Social work is a very unique & humble profession, rich with meaning, action, and the power to make a difference. I chose Social Work because I believe it can change the world on so many levels.

We have the opportunity to serve our society where we live, according to our ability.

Helping to change lives is one of the most important & rewarding elements of going into social work.

We aid people in substantive ways, helping them through major difficulties, such as poverty, substance abuse and addiction.

We are people who want to make things better, who want to relieve suffering.

So, all in all, I wanted my work to bring about a change, to make a difference and this led me into Social Work.

Q. Why have you chosen this specific field of social work ?

A. I chose to teach underprivileged kids. Every kid in this world has the right to three things - Right to eat, Right to be healthy and Right to education.

Most of us were privileged enough to get education while many weren't so lucky.

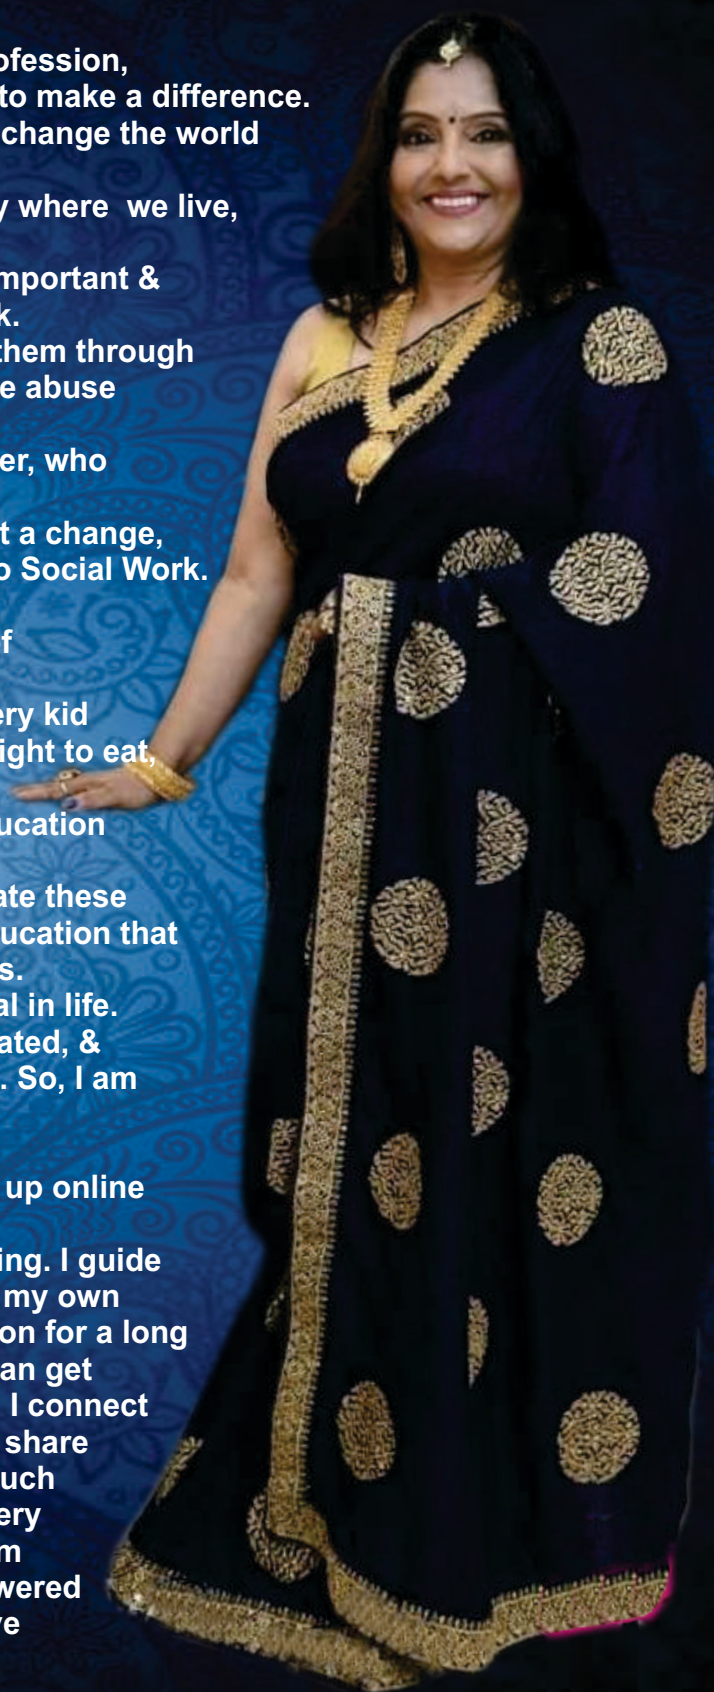

I thought I could use my knowledge to educate these underprivileged children, for it is through education that these kids will be able to tackle life situations.

I may help someone to find a direction, a goal in life.

Imagine a world where every person is educated, & people are capable of creating opportunities. So, I am doing my bit in creating a better world.

Q. Besides social work, you have also taken up online counselling. What's the story behind that?

A. Yes, I have also taken up on-line counselling. I guide people and try resolving their issues, using my own experience. I battled with anxiety & depression for a long time and I understand how challenging life can get when you have to live with these conditions. I connect with the patients at a much deeper level and share methods to deal with their personal issues such as loss of a job or a divorce. This can be a very stressful time for anyone. So, I try to get them back on their feet and make them feel empowered and stronger. I try to change their perspective towards these life issues.

Dr. Hamdani's work in securing essential medicines for Sri Lanka during an economic crisis was a testament to his exceptional leadership skills and deep commitment to serving the people of Sri Lanka.

Many among us have dedicated their lives to making others comfortable, working tirelessly and selflessly without seeking recognition or fame. Their contributions often go unnoticed, and they pursue a noiseless life by giving utmost priority to common responsibilities. The COVID-19 pandemic has been a powerful reminder of the depth of humanity, and the importance of recognizing and celebrating those who work tirelessly to make the world a better place.

Throughout this difficult time, there have been countless men and women who have worked tirelessly to keep the country running and provide life-saving care to those in need. They are the unsung heroes, the backbone of our communities who give their time, talent, and resources to help others. They work in challenging and demanding conditions, often putting their own health and safety on the line to care for others.

The COVID-19 pandemic was yet another events which highlighted the importance of these unsung heroes, and the critical role they play in our society. It has shown us that it is not only the doctors, nurses, and other healthcare professionals who are on the front lines, but also the police constables, intelligence officers, grocery store clerks, delivery drivers, and other essential workers who keep our society functioning. These unsung heroes remind us that service to others is a noble and valued pursuit, and that the selfless actions of a few can have a profound impact on the lives of many.

Needless to say, the COVID-19 pandemic has been a powerful lesson in the importance of recognizing and celebrating the unsung heroes in our society. Their contributions are often unseen and underappreciated, but they play a critical role in making the world a better place. We owe it to these individuals to acknowledge their efforts and show our gratitude and appreciation for their selfless service.

This medical expert has a warm and generous spirit, and is always willing to lend a helping hand to those in need. He is a larger-than-life figure, known for his dedication and tireless efforts to improve public health. Despite his impressive credentials and expertise, this medical expert remains humble and focused on the needs of his patients and community. He has always believed that public healthcare is a vital service that should be accessible to all, and he has dedicated his career to uplifting the standards of care for everyone, regardless of their background or means.

While some medical experts may prioritize private practice or focus on high-end treatments, this individual has always felt that his calling is to serve the public and improve the health of the community as a whole. He has made it his life's work to promote access to quality healthcare for all, and his efforts have touched countless lives. In short, this medical expert's warm and giving nature, combined with his unwavering commitment to public health, make him a true hero in the eyes of many. His selfless dedication to improving the lives of others is an inspiration to us all. He is a man who work beyond the call of duty.

Dr. Anver Hamdani is a name that resonates with the people, particularly in the medical community. He is a medical doctor and administrator who has served the people of Sri Lanka with great distinction. Before leave the country for higher education on medical science he worked with Lakshman Kadirgamar, PC, the slain Foreign Minister, who enabled many channels for Sri Lanka to work with other countries and develop a comprehensive foreign policy. "That was an exceptional opportunity for me", Dr. Hamdani says while recalling many good memories of Mr Kadirgamar. "He wanted me to study law, in fact he visited our home in Kandy and asked my mother to encourage me for law. But my destiny was different," he added.

"1996 saw a young boy walk out of the doors of Trinity ready to brace the future and what it holds. I spent 5 years pursuing medicine at Dow Medical College, Karachi, Pakistan following which I returned to the country ready to put whatever I had been taught to use," he says while recalling his student life.

As a former student of Trinity College in Kandy, Dr. Hamdani was well-versed in the values of teamwork and collaboration. "The most important thing in healthcare is teamwork and collaboration," he said. These qualities became evident when he spearheaded the fight against the Covid-19 pandemic in Sri Lanka. He was a driving force in controlling the spread of the virus and was tireless in his efforts to provide medical assistance to those in need.

"Healthcare is a fundamental human right, and it is our responsibility to ensure that everyone has access to quality care," he believed. "We are all human. And we all just want a chance. My mission is to impact as many lives as possible. Trinity has taught me that you just do whatever you can to help in any way that you can.

All you need to do is help one person, expecting nothing in return. To me, that is being a humanitarian," he added.

One of Dr. Hamdani's most significant contributions was the establishment of an intermediary treatment center for Covid-19 infected patients. This center was essential in providing prompt medical assistance to those who were affected by the virus. Dr. Hamdani also played a key role in the vaccination drive against the plague, which was critical in reducing the number of Covid-19 cases in the country.

Dr. Hamdani's exceptional leadership skills were evident not only throughout the pandemic but his remarkable journey as a medical doctor who worked in many remote areas in the island. He worked closely with medical professionals and other stakeholders to devise effective strategies to combat the virus. His ability to collaborate and work as a team was instrumental in bringing about positive results in the fight against the pandemic.

He is also an accomplished administrator. He has held various leadership positions in Sri Lanka's medical institutions, where he has played an active role in reforming the healthcare system. Dr. Hamdani's efforts have resulted in the establishment of modern medical facilities and the improvement of the overall quality of healthcare in Sri Lanka. "As a healthcare professional, it is our duty to serve the people with dedication and commitment," he said.

In addition to his outstanding efforts in controlling the Covid-19 pandemic, Dr. Anver Hamdani also played a critical role in securing essential medicines for Sri Lanka during a period of economic crisis. As a Director of Medical Technology services and Coordinator in charge of Covid-19 operations of the Ministry, he was in charge of coordinating with various international organizations and donors to ensure that Sri Lanka had access to essential medicines and medical supplies. "In times of crisis, it is important to work together and find solutions," he said.

Dr. Hamdani's efforts in this regard were particularly noteworthy during the period when Sri Lanka was facing an acute shortage of medicines and medical supplies due to a severe economic downturn. He worked tirelessly to reach out to various countries and international organizations, seeking their support in providing essential medicines to Sri Lanka. His efforts bore fruit, and Sri Lanka was able to secure critical medicines and medical supplies from various sources, including countries such as China, India, and Pakistan, and organizations such as the World Health Organization.

Dr. Hamdani's work in securing essential medicines for Sri Lanka during a time of economic crisis was a testament to his exceptional leadership skills and his deep commitment to serving the people of Sri Lanka. His tireless efforts in this regard were critical in ensuring that Sri Lanka's healthcare system was able to continue providing essential services to the people of the country, even in the face of severe economic challenges. His contributions to the healthcare system in Sri Lanka, both during the Covid-19 pandemic and the economic crisis, have been truly exceptional, and his legacy will continue to inspire future generations of healthcare professionals in Sri Lanka and beyond.

As we reflect on the remarkable achievements of this individual and the impact he has made on our nation, let us express our gratitude and admiration for his exceptional dedication to service. Let us also bless him with more courage and enthusiasm as he continues his important work. We are blessed to have such an extraordinary individual in our midst, and we owe him a debt of gratitude for all he has done to uplift our nation. May he continue to be blessed with the strength, courage, and enthusiasm he needs to pursue his exceptional national endeavor and make a lasting impact on the lives of many.

Celebrities from various fields participated in this program

New Delhi, Women are unable to take care of their body in their hectic lives. Now if there is a major illness in this situation, then they do not pay any attention at all. One such health issue of concern is increasing in today's women, which is known as Breast Cancer.

On this subject, an event has been organized by LA Global Foundation at Ransala Wadhwa Hotel, Gangotri. Through this program, all those people were honored, who have reached a good place along with the development and prosperity of women. The event has awards like Lifetime Achievement Award, Global Humanitarian Award, Global Ambassador Award, Global Entrepreneur Award, and Global Fitness Award.

At the same time, women were given the Ms. Fit Award, Ms. Fit Award, Ms. Plus Award, Mrs. Care Award, etc. The chief guest of the event was Mr. MOE Kaur Singh, Ambassador Myanmar. The presence of dignitaries like Govt of Himachal Pradesh, Shri. Chaudhary, Dr. VSB Ex. MLA, Dr. Suresh Raj, Principal Income Tax, Mr. Govinda Chaudhary Director Group, M. etc. made the event a grand spectacle.

The founder and chair of LA Global Foundation, Dr. Meenakshi Sawhney said that she keeps organizing women's programs and she never receives from any women related program or awareness campaign. Due to this, they have organized this program for women who do not pay attention to their body at all. Women work day and night to strengthen their family.

Keeping this in mind, an awareness campaign has been done in honor of all those women who successfully carry forward their family along with their own success.

In this program, the presence of LA Global Foundation, Dr. Meenakshi Sawhney, Mrs. Binu Malik, Mrs. Shikha Chakraborty, Mrs. Chitra Agrawal, Dr. Shelly Parashar, Mrs. Binu Malik, Mrs. Shikha Chakraborty, etc. has contributed significantly.

Global Leadership Awards 2023 Edition 3

New Delhi: LA Global Foundation, considering its responsibility towards society as a priority, is committed to taking each of its campaigns to new heights and achieving positive results. Non-profit organization is working towards the holistic development of the people across Health, Education, Water, Sanitation & Economic Development by creating a scalable, replicable & community-centric model of sustainable development, in accordance with the United Nation's 17 Sustainable development goals. At LA Global Foundation, we believe that the partnership with corporates, young urban India, the Government and other foundations is the key to create a permanent and irreversible change for good. Under the dynamic leadership of Dr. Meenakshi Sawhney, founder, LA Global Foundation aspires to impact 1 million lives by SDG 2030. Leaving no one behind. Considering Mission 100k as its main goal, LA Global Foundation started its program on a strong note. The program was started by worshipping God and lighting the lamp, which filled the program with positive feelings. Guests are considered to be the form of God, in accordance with this thinking. Dr. Meenakshi Sahni and Mrs. Sudesh Chaddha, founder and chairperson of LA Global Foundation, welcomed all the guests present in the program with respect by giving them
